Mayor Gives Juke Box to Teenage Club

A much desired juke box was presented as a gift to the North Torrance Teen Age Club recently by Mayor Nicholas Dralle and Al Gianni.

The club members had been attempting to raise the money to purchase a juke box and had collected about half of the amount needed, according to Recreation Director Les Breitenfel. Now that money can be devoted to other needs.

A group composed of Pat Webb, Joy Doruenser, Butch Papp, Charles Morris, Judy Breitenfel, Pat Duncan, Dave Ladd, Richard Murphy and Judy Ingold, with Directors Breitenfel and Barbara Billings, attended the Spring Conference of the Southern California Youth Association Saturday in Gardena and made reports to the Club at its Monday meeting.

Principal speaker was Joseph Kennick, director of the Juvenile Department in Long Beach, who spoke on "The Youth of Today."

Some of the topics discussed by the teenagers were "Narcotics," "Hot Rods," "Religion in the Home," "How To Get Along With Others."

Two Girls Make Belated But Spirited Bid for Queen Job

Two more candidates for Queen of the Carson Chamber of Commerce Carnival on June 11, 12 and 13, got a belated start in that race this past week, but immediately became serious contenders for the title by piling up a large total of votes.

Latest starters are Jeanne Worthan, 17, of 2661 Madison Ave., Dominguez and Janice Dowell, 17, of 25126 Frampton Ave., Harbor City. They will compete against nine other girls for the Queen's role. Six boys are contesting for the King title.

Meanwhile Kenny Parker, who took a commanding lead in that division, continued to pile up votes and already has secured a flash camera, plus a pen and pencil set, as extra prizes. The winner of the King title as well as the Queen, will receive a $100 wardrobe.

While each of the 17 candidates seek votes, a new leader is expected in the King contest before many weeks, Bob Weiknecht, who is sponsored by a girl's club of Scott Playground, became a threat to Parker's lead this past week when more than 20 girls moved into the field to seek votes for the choice.

Jack Henry, chairman of the booth committee, announced several other organizations had already completed arrangements for their places on the midway and that others are expected to file this week.

Pageant of Light at the Ice Capades honors 75 Years of Electric Progress

Diamond Jubilee of Light

The first electric light of Thomas A. Edison 75 years ago proved to the world that electricity had practical use, and launched the march of progress which has brought us the daily miracles of electric living.

This year we join the nation in saluting the Diamond Jubilee of Light honoring the great inventor and the 75 years of electrical development which have raised our standards of living to their highest point in history. The "Pageant of Light" opening the Ice Capades pays tribute to Light's Diamond Jubilee, and its theme traces the remarkable advancements which have made electricity mankind's most valued and least costly servant.

Top Dog Owned By Locals Goes On Show Tour

More well-traveled than many of the homo sapiens race will be a handsome canine owned by Frank and Ann Sclarotta, 1014 Sierra Pl., when he returns from a dog show tour which will take him to Colorado.

The dog, 18-month-old boxer who carries the long handle of Pace Maker Es Franzin but is better known as Brutus, left Friday for a San Francisco show after which he will leave immediately for a circuit of five shows.

The son of stapleton champion Whizz Bang and Duchess Es Franzin, Brutus won five points toward his championship at a recent show given by the Santa Ana Valley Kennel Club at La Palma Park in Anaheim.

Handled by Ben Brown, he won the American-bred class, went winners dog, and won over the top female boxer, which made him the best of winners among the 86 boxers entered.

Brutus recently won the over-age futurity held in Glendale and went reserve winner in a Pasadena show. As a pup, he won best senior male at the National Boxer Club puppy match in Los Angeles. He also has received first in Riverside, Glendale, and San Diego shows.
